Minnesotans for the American Community Survey & Census 2030

Young Child Initiative

It's time to Count all Kids in Minnesota!

States and local communities lose funding and representation when children are undercounted in the census. Funding for critical programs such as WIC and SNAP rely on population data. When we undercount kids – we can lose important resources for a full decade.

Join us to learn about how your local funding is impacted by census data – and join us in educating families and our communities.
